Greenbelt Will Miss Them

The staff of the News Review, as well as the whole community, will sorely miss the Greenbaums, Russ and Viv, who moved out to the Kemp Mills area of Silver Spring last week. Russ served as editor of this paper on three different occasions for a total of almost four years since he joined the staff in 1953. During these last eleven years he left his stamp on the paper, not only in his capacity as editor, but also as a reporter who covered every important beat in town and as a feature columnist whose opinions never failed to provoke a response. His sprightly style and sharp wit both amused and delighted our readers, and his lucid reports of community activities enlightened them. It is a tribute to the quality of his writing that, though he often irritated those who disagreed with his independent views, he was uniformly regarded as a fair and impartial reporter who called things as he saw them without fear or favor, in the highest tradition of community journalism. Viv, too, left her mark with a series of columns which reflected a quiet and gentle humor which could sometimes cut like a razor and which always found wide appreciation. We will miss them both! Whenever we read a neatly turned phrase or chuckle at a well written barb, we will miss them especially. And though we wish them all good luck in their new location, it is with a heavy heart that we say good-bye.

GHI First Quarter Financial Report

by Al Skolnik

A first-quarter fiscal report with few surprises was submitted by Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Comptroller Don McGinn to the board of directors on Thursday, June 25.

Covering operations for the months of January, February, and March 1964, the report showed total operating expenses of $307,400 and total income for operation of $268,600, leaving a deficit of $38,800. Because of seasonal heating costs, the budget always shows a deficit in the first quarter. Last year the deficit was $29,900 and in 1962 $31,300.

Although the first-quarter deficit was greater by $8,900 this year, GHI manager Roy Breashears said that not too much significance should be attached to this. A major factor contributing to the greater deficit was a drop of $8,000 in interest earned from investments. Certain interest in time certificates, which came due at one time in the first quarter of 1963 will be spread throughout the year in 1964.

Repairs and maintenance costs also contributed to the deficit. But Breashears reported this was due to mild winter weather which permitted more activity in the re-roofing and replacement of hot water pipe line programs during the first quarter of 1964.

Another contributing item was sales department fees which were down by $4,000 over the first quarter of 1963 due to fewer sales. Breashears observed, however, that the number of sales have evened out for the first six months of 1964 when compared with 1963.

Several expenditure items reported decreases. Heating costs were down $1,300 from last year; fire insurance down $2,800 reflecting dividend payments; and garages showed a drastic reduction, since no overhead doors were installed during the first quarter of 1964.

An offsetting item was an increase of $4,700 in administrative and sales expenditures. This was mainly due to increased payroll and pension costs, and stepped-up advertising.

It was noted that the first-quarter statement estimates taxes as budgeted since the final reassessment figure has yet to be received.

Voting Registration Dates

If residents are not registered to vote in time for the November elections, it won't be the fault of Prince Georges County authorities, who have announced expanded registration services.

Starting Aug. 1, under an order by the Board of Election Supervisors confirmed by the County Commissioners, a registration office will be maintained in the County Service Building in Hyattsville, where residents may register any day during normal working hours from Monday through Friday. This service will also continue to be extended at the Court House in Upper Marlboro.

In addition, the County Service registration office will continue to be open each Tuesday and Friday evening from 6 until 9 p.m.

The Commissioners also authorized $8,000 to finance a third all-day registration in each of the County's 79 voting precincts. Under the law, registration opportunities must be provided on the 8th and 15th of September in all precincts. Since both are Tuesdays, it was decided to open all precincts on Saturday, Sept. 12, as well, to give more opportunity for working people to register.

Greenbelt residents living in precinct 3 will register at Center School and those living in precinct 6 will register at North End school.

All voters who have not registered before must do so by Sept. 22 to vote in the November election. Those who have registered previously do not have to register again, but should report changes of address to the elections offices.

Business Women Will Meet

The Greenbelt Business and Professional Women's Club will hold a meeting on Wednesday, July 15, at 8 p.m. at the GHI Hospitality Room, Hamilton Place, Greenbelt.

All interested employed women are invited to attend. For information, contact Roseann Laskill, 474-6033.

City Notes

Park and Playground Improvements

For the past week the Public Works Department has had its part-time summer crew of six school boys at work cleaning up the parks and playgrounds throughout the city. The boys are working with a stake body truck, which they are using to carry away the debris.

Last Thursday four new picnic tables were constructed by the General Crew and were placed along with four new trash receptacles in the picnic area adjacent to the swimming pool, and Braden Field. The many people who are using this picnic area will now find more tables to enjoy their picnic lunches.

On Tuesday, four Johnny-on-the-Spot outdoor chemical toilets arrived at the city warehouse. Two were taken to the lake and placed at the top of the hill near trees at the west end of the lake. Another was placed in the picnic area at the edge of Braden Field and the fourth was placed at the Little League baseball field. The new toilets will cost the city $30 per month and will be used from July through September and in the Spring, from April through June. The firm renting the "Johnnies" provides weekly service, insuring cleanliness and proper use.

On Monday, the General Crew spent the day cleaning the brush and debris from the walls of the dam at the lake.

Refuse collection crews had the day off Saturday for the Fourth. Pickups were made on Tuesday for the Saturday run. It is hoped that the vacation did not inconvenience too many residents.

The final 2" asphalt topping was placed over one-half of the 150' strip of 6" concrete base on Lakeside Drive on Tuesday. The General Crew will try to finish the other half this week.

Swimming Pool Concession Stand

On Wednesday, July 1, the city opened a concession stand at the swimming pool to serve sandwiches, crackers, popcorn and cold drinks to hungry swimmers. After the first several days the stand appears to be doing very well. Sandwiches are prepared by an infrared heating process, and are delivered twice a week by a concession service. The stand has a window open to non-bathers outside of the pool and is handy for persons at the Youth Center and Braden Field.

Booklet Reveals Profile Of Prince Georges County

A 20-page "Area Profile of Prince Georges County" was released July 1 by Irvin A. Lavine, Chairman of the Prince Georges Health and Welfare Council. The profile covers sixteen different aspects of the County, including its geographic character, population characteristics, housing, employment, education, etc., especially as they affect the health, welfare and recreation needs and services.

The "Profile" presents a comprehensive picture of the County, its people, its business and industry, its governmental structure, its educational, cultural, health, welfare and recreation resources. The concluding section deals with the "Major Problems Affecting Health and Welfare Services," and points up some of the more serious problems now facing the citizenry of the County.

Copies may be obtained for a small fee from the Prince Georges Health and Welfare Council, 3723 34th St., Mt. Rainier — UN 4-0332.

Labor Day Celebration Plans Seek 'Something for Everyone'

by Al Skolnik

Plans for the city's annual celebration over the Labor Day weekend received a big push last Tuesday when a group representing many of the local organizations voted to set up a permanent steering committee. The committee was authorized to plan and direct the many activities that will take place over the weekend. City authorities have pledged their cooperation.

Elected to the Steering Committee were Leo Gerton, James Cassels, Dave and Sue Lange, Jim Colby, and Irene Hensel. The committee will name additional members later.

Highlighting the celebration will be the dedication ceremonies for the new municipal building. The date for the dedication will be either Sunday, September 6, or Monday, September 7. A prominent national personage will be the guest speaker.

Seek New Name

One of the first jobs of the steering committee will be to decide upon a name for the occasion. In the past it was known as the Greenbelt Festival. There was some talk of naming it a City Fair or Exposition, with emphasis placed on the various city organizations exhibiting their wares and publicizing their activities.

There was strong sentiment expressed, however, that the affair also provide a means for organizations to raise money. It was pointed out that for many organizations the Labor Day Festival was their only source of income.

Suggested Activities

Other activities suggested included athletic contests, art exhibits, hobby displays, films, and a parade. The consensus was that the celebration should contain many aspects, so that there would be something for everybody. As one citizen said in favor of this: "The most fascinating part of a fair is its mish-mash — hog-calling contests next to art shows."

Ed Don Bullian, son of the late Eli Don Bullian who was the chief architect of the Festivals in previous years, cautioned that plans for the affair would have to be on a much smaller scale this year, because of the late start. To have such activities as parades, carnival rides, and talent contests, plans have to be made many months before.

The idea of a Labor Day celebration almost went by the board until resuscitated by the Greenbelt Shopping Center Association. The Association felt that this traditional affair should be continued, especially since the city did not have a large-scale July 4th program this year.

The Steering Committee is expected to approach each civic organization to determine how it would like to participate. One suggestion was to make the Youth Center an exhibit hall, with each organization given an opportunity to have displays. The theme would be "Know Your Greenbelt."

All sorts of athletic contests were also suggested, including swimming meets, ping pong contests, tennis matches, bicycle races. A Mish Greenbelt or Mrs. Greenbelt contest was another suggestion. Suggested climaxes for the three-day celebration were a community barbecue and a community dance.

County Cultural Center

The Prince Georges Cultural Commission has announced that it has accepted "in concept" a design for the County's new $1,300,000 Cultural Center.

In announcing tentative acceptance of the design, the Commission called on all organized cultural groups in Prince Georges County to come forward with their suggestions on the utilization of the building.

The one acre necessary for the construction of the building was donated to the people of the County by Bancroft Construction Corporation, developers of the 105-acre New Town Center satellite city.

The structure was designed by architect Edward Durell Stone under a Ford Foundation grant. Mr. Stone is the architect for New Town Center, where the structure will be located, and for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington. The stage area in the tentative design was prepared by set designer Edon Elder.

Commission Co-Chairmen T. Howard Duckett and Charles Johnson emphasized that the group was "approving a general exterior concept — not a concrete and steel structure as yet."

"The design represents a good starting point for further study by Mr. Stone and his staff and for the consolidation into the final plans of a variety of uses consistent with the wishes of the people of Prince Georges County."

"As originally designed, the building was primarily a theater for the performing arts," the Commission Co-chairmen pointed out. "But the Commission feels that the use possibilities should be broadened — particularly in the teaching and exhibition of the arts. Accordingly, we welcome suggestions on possible uses of the Cultural Center by interested groups," they said.

Cultural, civic, church and other groups and individuals desiring to communicate their suggestions for possible uses of the Cultural Center should address them to: Prince Georges County Cultural Commission, The Courthouse, Upper Marlboro, Maryland.

Greenbelt Float Wins Fire Prevention Prize

Congratulations to the members of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Dept. and Rescue Squad, who participated in preparing the Fire Prevention Float for entry in the Fourth of July Parade at Laurel. Their efforts and time were rewarded by the recognition they received from the judges, who awarded them First Place in the Fire Prevention Float Category. Well Done.

URGES LABOR DAY EVENT "DOESN'T SEEM RIGHT"

To the Editor:

I have been a resident of Greenbelt for over twenty-five years and I am shocked at the way the two big holidays have been eliminated from Greenbelt's activities.

For many years, the fourth of July Parade and the fireworks have been a real pleasure, not only to Greenbelters but to other people in the area. Most people cannot believe this has been eliminated.

As for the three day celebration (Labor Day) I think it is disgraceful that we are not having this successful affair. It is known that some former Greenbelters return to Greenbelt on their vacation just for the celebration. Everyone looks forward to it, the young children, the teen-agers and older people.

I have raised four children, who now have their own families and they never miss coming to Greenbelt for the holidays.

The three day celebration is also a big boost to our merchants, as people come from the surrounding areas to the activities and while here, make many purchases at our stores.

I would like to close on a very disappointing note and say that I hope Greenbelters will come forward. I know it is too late to do anything about the fourth of July, but please think of all the pleasures you will be missing if we do not have the Labor Day celebration.

Last Semester for G. I. Bill

Korean Conflict veterans who, after continuous military service, have been discharged to civilian life within the last 3 years are reminded that they have one semester left for education and training under the Korean GI Bill.

Congress has established January 31, 1965, as the termination date for the readjustment program of education and training for Korean Conflict veterans.

Eligible veterans may obtain the necessary application forms by writing to Veterans Benefits Office, 1717 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Wash., D. C.

To the Editor

"It just doesn't seem right, Dad-dy".

At first this sounded like a childish protest, but the more I think about the subject of this complaint, the more I feel my little daughter, Rita, has a good point about the loss of our Fourth of July Fireworks Display. More and more we are giving up traditions that meant something to us — the sight and sound of rockets was a reminder of how brave men won the freedom which we now take for granted.

Another observation on this subject is that as the city gets richer it gets stingier — when our tax rates were high and our tax base low we could afford firework displays, but now that our tax rates are lower and our tax base is broader, we find we can't afford this little luxury which enriches our youngsters lives.

It just doesn't seem right that we adults of Greenbelt sat back while a small minority influenced our elected city officials to drop our Fourth of July Fireworks display.

It just doesn't seem right that the American Legion, the Lions and other civic-minded organizations didn't use their influence to get a restoration of funds for this purpose.

It just doesn't seem right that we will all sit quietly as Council will let another year go by without appropriating funds for the 1965 Fourth of July Fireworks Display. I hope that I am wrong in this prediction and that next year we'll all enjoy being at the Lake and hear our kids say, "It sure seems like the Fourth of July!"

Burt - McGaha

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burt, 11-E Ridge, announce the engagement of their daughter, Constance Marie to Arnold N. McGaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oda S. McGaha, 3616 Powder Mill Road, Beltsville. No date has been set for the wedding.

Golden Agers

The 98 degree temperature on July 1 did not deter 42 members from attending the meeting of the Club.

Charles D. Barkley and wife are new members of the Club; they are long-time residents of Greenbelt. Carrol Ward made his appearance as a new member also. Johnny Walker and wife, from down on the farm, have recently joined our growing membership. In 1920 they moved from Washington, D. C. to their present home on 15 acres of land. In addition to remodeling the original home on the tract they also constructed two new homes there — Walker was one of the first employees on the Greenbelt project, retiring a few years ago.

To all of these new members, we are proud of each of you and wish you a healthful happy future.

Charles J. Cookson and wife were married 55 years ago at Canonsbury, Pa. They are to be highly complimented for living together for 10 these many years without a single quarrel. Their presence adds to our club meetings congeniality, goodwill and cooperation. To them, their four sons, two daughters, and 28 grandchildren we wish all the good things in life.

Mrs. Taylor has returned from an extended visit in Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Ream of Lancaster, Pa., a sister of Mrs. Turner, was a visitor. Mr. Evans of Pennsylvania has been a visitor for the past two meetings. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Armbruster entertained their daughter and family at Rehoboth beach; they are visitors from Houston, Texas.

Wyatts Attend Institute

Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Wyatt, of 2-A Hillside, will attend the Eastern Christian Social Action Institute of the United Church of Christ, to be held at Craigville (Cape Cod) Massachusetts starting on July 11.

More than 40 delegates from 11 states will take part in the week-long session at the Craigville Inn. The Institute is sponsored annually by the Council for Christian Social Action of the United Church of Christ which is headed by Dr. Ray Gibbons, New York City.

Two of the purposes of the meeting are to "reflect on how our Christian faith impels us to act as citizens" and "to help social action committees (of local churches) develop effective strategies for political education and action."

Invited speakers, discussions, and study periods will be on the program of the Institute.

County Tax Bills Mailed Last Week

A record number of tax bills are going in the mail this week to property owners in Prince Georges County.

County Treasurer Charles E. Callow said last week that his office will be mailing out 119,936 real property tax bills this year, an increase of 4,856 over the levy year 1963.

The tax information pamphlet regularly issued with the tax bills points out that the County Commissioners will not levy a tax for the six month period January 1, 1965 to June 30, 1965 under a revised state law calling for a fiscal year tax base in all Counties of Maryland.

However, the average citizen will not feel the difference.

Here's why:

Prince Georges has always mailed out its tax bills with the beginning of the fiscal year in July each year, though the tax was levied for the entire calendar year January through December. Next year the County will send out the tax bills at the same time, July, but the tax will be levied for the fiscal year running through June 1966 and everybody will pay one year's taxes as they had before.

Payment of taxes will be accepted at any bank in the County or at the Treasurer's Office in the Courthouse, Upper Marlboro.

Taxes will be considered delinquent and subject to interest if not paid by September 30 of this year.

You may have a date with destiny at 1900 E Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

At 8:30 a.m. Saturday morning, July 11, the U. S. Civil Service Commission is giving the Peace Corps Placement Test.

There are Questionnaires at the Post Office right now. You fill out one before taking the test.

The Test tells the Peace Corps all about your aptitudes.

The Questionnaire tells all about you.

If you are interested in two of the most rewarding years of your life—helping the people of underdeveloped nations, learning of their culture and society — in the Far East, Africa, Latin America or the Near East, give the Test a whirl.

Are you 18 years old? Or 68?

Were you brought up on a farm? Have you done vocational work? Do you teach or are you a liberal arts major?

Are you a doctor or an auto mechanic?

Are you a welder or a math major?

Your skill could be the one they are looking for.

Your Post Office has the Questionnaire.

You can take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, July 11.

B&O Railroad Museum Is Well Worth a Visit

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad reopened its internationally-famed Transportation Museum on July 2 for the period of the city's Star Spangled Banner Festival observance.

The B&O agreed to reopen the museum until Sept. 14 when city officials asked that it be made available to visitors during the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the writing of the National Anthem. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wednesday through Sundays. Admission is free.

The museum, exhibiting the largest collection of historic railroad equipment in the world, was opened in 1953. It was closed in 1958 because of adverse business conditions.

The museum, located at Pratt and Poppleton Streets, will be one of the most important tourist attractions in Baltimore during the sesquicentennial period. Thousands of visitors from all over the world have viewed its exhibits, which trace the history of railroading from its beginning in America. The collection is housed in a B&O roundhouse and the historic Mount Clare Station, in which the first railroad passenger ticket in America was sold.

As a convenience to museum visitors, the B&O will, for the first time, provide the facilities of a railroad coffee shop car serving light snack and beverages. The dining car, parked on an adjacent track, will afford visitors an opportunity to enjoy refreshments in a real railroad atmosphere.

The museum displays include many original locomotives used by the B&O and other railroads from 1830 to the present. Also included are exact replicas of such famous locomotives as the Tom Thumb, the first to be built in America. Many of the museum's historic cars and locomotives have been used in Hollywood movies and on network television shows.

Two-Artist Show Continues

The current exhibit sponsored by the Arts and Crafts Guild will be on display at Twin Pines through July 11. Consisting of works of Marie Picard and Helene Burns, this two-artist show gives the viewer opportunity to see both craftsmanship and sensitivity embodied in what is in the main straightforward representational art.

Despite the competition of the holidays, a pleasant opening was held last Sunday.

for the thousands of school children who have visited the Museum, is an elaborate miniature railroad which has been described as the most detailed in the world.

Among the unique dioramas on display is one which shows the proximity of B&O's waterfront facilities to Fort McHenry where, in 1814, Francis Scott Key was inspired to write the Star Spangled Banner.

Swim Team News

Last Tuesday night, July 7, the swim team had a practice meet with the Adelphi team at the Adelphi Pool. Every member of our team participated. The first official meet will be held Saturday, July 11, at the new Beltsville pool. Swimmers, officials and supporters will leave at 8 a.m. from the front of the Greenbelt pool. Come along and help us with your encouragement!

Since volunteers are all-important for the success of the meets, parents are asked to cooperate when they are called. In order to strengthen the team Greenbelters are asked to inform non-resident pool pass-holders that their children are eligible for the team; many are not aware of this.

LITTLE LEAGUE CHATTER

by "Dale" Parrish

Try a Change of Pace

Setting time aside for wholesome recreation is becoming increasingly important in leading a healthful and productive life, advises the American Medical Association.

Leisure time can be used to regain a healthy balance of suitable physical activity and relaxation. Whether through a trip to the opera or an hour or two of quiet fishing, the ability to "lose oneself" in some diversional recreation provides personal fulfillment and relief from life's tensions.

Recreation is personal; to be satisfying, the hobbies and other activities chosen should be meaningful to the individual. What may be enjoyable to one person may be boring to another. Fortunately, a wide variety of opportunities is available and every person should be able to find some that bring satisfaction. Interesting family activities, another important but often missing part of modern life, can evolve from personal recreation interests.

Whatever a person may choose as hobbies, some physical recreation should be included daily. The health benefits from regular suitable physical activity such as weight control, relief from stress, and a sense of well-being are now well established. On the other hand, the potential ill-effects of prolonged inactivity, such as obesity, metabolic disorders, loss of movement capacity, cannot be considered helpful for enjoyable living.

When the blinds go up in the Capitol Building...

... Washington Shade and Awning Company trucks will be parked in the driveway!

The 35-year-old company was recently awarded a contract to manufacture and install venetian blinds in the East Front Wing.

Now, when the government noticed the Capitol's window shades wearing out, did it shop the Yellow Pages to find someone to replace them? Probably not.

But—just about 40% of the Washington Shade and Awning Company's annual retail leads are the result of Yellow Pages advertising. It feels the Yellow Pages has played a vital part in the company's sales program.

Big or little, your business can be busier as the result of a Yellow Pages advertisement.

People looking for someone to serve their needs look in the Yellow Pages. Make sure they find you there.

Call your C & P Business Office and ask for a Yellow Pages representative.

John D. Buckingham, president of the Washington Shade and Awning Company, says, "We get our greatest assist in retail drapery sales from our Yellow Pages advertising."

Expecting a New Baby?

Expecting a new baby in your family? Perhaps your first? And getting almost panicky at the thought that you will be responsible for the care, feeding and well being of a tiny new human life?

Be reassured by the fact that other people — also without special training — have brought up children who successfully grew into healthy, emotionally stable and highly productive members of society, says a new American Medical Association pamphlet, "A Child in the Family."

The first few weeks at home the baby gets to know you, and you learn a few things about him, too. Most important, you learn that he is an individual with likes and dislikes and a willingness to express them. Also, you will discover that he is rather sturdy and won't break with reasonable handling. He needs lots of sleep, but awakes often and hungry.

Your doctor can help much in giving you pointers on care of the baby, but no physician can anticipate every situation and tell parents exactly what to do. There is no one right way to bring up babies. The relaxed parent can enjoy his baby and do what is right for him most of the time, though an occasional problem will require the doctor's advice.

Breast feeding or bottle feeding is a perennial argument with good opinion on both sides; talk it over with your doctor.

Sleep is essential. During the early weeks, baby sleeps practically all of the time. He awakens only when hungry. Awake in his crib, place baby so he can see what is going on around him. Covering the sides of the crib to prevent drafts also reduces his view and his chance to learn about and respond to his environment.

Crying is baby's language. It's his way to show discomfort, protest against hunger, pain, being wet and being cold, and to demand the attention he wants. Until he learns to talk, it is his only means of attracting attention to his needs and desires.

Discipline is training for living. It must start early, be constant and consistent, and guide the child in what to do, as well as what not to do. Children need a discipline that sets limits for them. They must learn to accept authority, but it should be a firm, reasonable, kind authority that deserves respect.

Experience shows that, despite parental bewilderment through the years of growth, most children grow up to be good citizens and to assume responsibility as their parents have before them.
